OVERVIEW

The Claritas CultureCode Hispanicity Distributions data set helps companies identify Hispanic consumers based on their acculturation. Hispanicity™ is a CultureCode® measuring the degree to which people of Hispanic heritage in the United States retain elements of Hispanic culture while they acquire elements of American culture. Additionally, the distributions also provide insight into Hispanic consumers based on combinations of Hispanicity and Socioeconomic Status, Life Stage, or Origin and Hispanic Language Usage.

DATA DESCRIPTION

Segment Descriptors

Hispanicity Acculturation Segments

The following are typical for the acculturation segments. However, there is greater variability of the key attributes within each segment including language usage, foreign born vs native born, years in United States and number of generations in the U.S.

SEGMENT CODE	SEGMENT NAME	SEGMENT DESCRIPTOR
HA1	Americanizado	English dominant (nearly no Spanish); born in U.S. and often 3rd+ generation; has few Hispanic cultural practices
HA2	Nueva Latina	English preferred (some Spanish); born in U.S. and typically 2nd generation; some Hispanic cultural practices and often "retro-acculturate"
HA3	Bi-Cultural Hispanic	Bi-lingual (equal or nearly); immigrated as child or young adult; has many Hispanic cultural practices
HA4	Hispano	Spanish preferred (some English); immigrated as adult and in U.S. 10+ years; predominant Hispanic cultural practices
HA5	Latinoamericana	Spanish dominant (nearly no English); recent immigrant as adult (less than 10 years ago); primarily Hispanic cultural practices and identifies with home country more so than U.S.

Socioeconomic Status (SES) Segments

The following are typical for the SES categories. However, there can be greater diversity within a category, particularly for household income and educational attainment.

SOCIOECONOMIC STATUS (SES) SEGMENTS
SEGMENT CODE	SEGMENT NAME	SEGMENT DESCRIPTOR
A	Upper Class	Households with over $100,000 annual household income, 4-year college degree or graduate degree, owned housing, and employed in professional occupations.
B	Upper-Middle Class	Households generally between $75,000 and $200,000 annual household income, some college or higher education, owned housing, professional or skilled occupation.
C	Middle Class	Households usually between $40,000 and $125,000 annual household income, high school graduate to some college, and employed as skilled labor or service worker.
D	Lower-Middle Class	Households typically between $25,000 and $60,000 annual household income, high school or lower education, rented housing, employed as service or labor worker.
E	Lower Class	Households most often below $35,000 annual household income; less than high school education; rented housing, labor or service worker or unemployed.

Hispanic Language Usage Segments

HISPANIC LANGUAGE USAGE SEGMENT
LANGUAGE CODE	LANGUAGE SEGMENT DESCRIPTION
HL1	English dependent
HL2	Bi-Lingual English Preferred
HL3	Bi-Lingual English and Spanish equally used
HL4	Bi-Lingual Spanish Preferred
HL5	Spanish dependent

Special Notice

Two of the variables presented are only available for block groups, census tracts, and ZIP codes. This is because the typical diversity in larger geographies is better evaluated by looking at the percent distribution of the population groups rather than an overall classification that would mask the diversity for most areas. Therefore, if you receive data for another geography, the variables below will not be populated. Additionally, these variables are not available for custom areas in our Claritas 360 software.

Variables Impacted

- Hispanicity Segment (Hispanic Acculturation)
- Hispanic Language Usage Segment (English-Spanish Language Usage)

METHODOLOGY

To augment Census data in important yet practical ways, Claritas has developed numerous cultural and lifestyle indicators that provide the ability to measure and target specific sub-groups within the U.S. population—collectively referred to as “CultureCode.” These measures are created using a combination of inputs and modeling, resulting in alphabetical and/or numeric values that are easy to apply to analysis and visualization objectives.

Hispanicity segments incorporate language, spatial population density, how recently immigration to the U.S. took place and other factors, thereby making it possible to predict response or behavior relative to marketing or social outreach endeavors.
